CREATING THE HEALTHY SMILE YOU WANT THROUGH SCIENCE AND ARTISTRY

THE DENTAL ARCHITECT

THE DENTAL IMPLANT CENTER'S DR. BRANBERG

SO, WHAT IS A PROSTHODONTIST Prosthodontists—which is pronounced “PROS-the-DON-tist”—are the dental specialists who focus specifically on the restoration and replacement of teeth. They are the architects of dentistry using science and artistry to build smiles that not only look beautiful, but function properly. After completing four years of dental school, prosthodontists receive an additional three years of specialized intensive training in certain areas of dentistry including: crowns, bridges, dentures, cosmetics, as well as dental implants. If you have lost teeth or are considering cosmetic or reconstructive dental work, you should consult a Prosthodontist about your treatment options first.

MEET DR. B

Dr. Steven Branberg received a degree in Biological Sciences from the University of California at Irvine. He then attended the University of Southern California, School of Dentistry (USCSD), where he developed a passion for cosmetic, implant and restorative dentistry. After receiving his D.D.S. degree, he began a 3-year post-doctoral residency program specializing in Prosthodontics. After receiving his Certificate in Prosthodontics from USCSD, he became a faculty member and held the title of Assistant Clinical Professor. In 2011, he moved from Southern California to Dallas to work full-time as the lead dentist in a thriving private practice. He's treated patients of all ages and provided them with the highest level of dental care. For some, dental procedures can be stressful and overwhelming. Dr. B puts his patients at ease by spending quality time explaining options and procedures in an understandable way.

THE PHILOSOPHY

At the Dental Implant Center, you become family as soon as you walk into their office. You are greeted by a comfortable, relaxed office that assures you your smile is in the right hands. The Dental Implant Center offers all forms of adult dentistry, including everything from cleanings, fillings, dental implants, bridges and crowns, oral surgery and extractions, bone grafting, same day tooth replacement, removable partial and denture services, veneers and full mouth restorations. They offer sedation dentistry for patients who may feel anxious about having dental work done.

Their mission is to provide quality dental care to all patients in an environment that promotes the well-being of patients, staff and community. At the Dental Implant Center, every patient receives a thorough examination and a precise assessment of their oral health. They will discuss your dental needs, answer your questions and make recommendations for treatment using the latest technology, such as titanium-framed implant dentures and E.Max all-porcelain restorations.

WHY DENTAL IMPLANTS

Not surprisingly, much of the work Dr. Branberg does involves dental implants. Missing teeth can affect a person's appearance, their ability to speak, chew and their general dental health. Many people who have lost teeth would like new teeth that are attractive, natural and comfortable. Others who have worn removable dentures wish to have the security of fixed, stationary teeth—regaining the ability to chew natural foods without being limited by their teeth. Dental implants make this possible. Dental implants are an effective and reliable means of replacing missing teeth and securing bridges and dentures. In expert hands like Dr. Branberg's, it is a highly-successful technique that has improved the quality of life for millions of people.

WHAT ARE DENTAL IMPLANTS

Dental implants are artificial tooth roots that replace natural tooth roots and support prosthetic teeth (crowns and bridges). The implants are actually titanium posts that are surgically placed in the bone under the gums. The bone attaches to the implant, so that the replacement tooth or crown can be fixed to a solid foundation. The result is a restoration that looks and acts just like a natural tooth.

THE DIFFERENCE

At the Dental Implant Center, the overall goal is always patient comfort and complete satisfaction. Whether replacing a single tooth or implementing a full-mouth restoration, Dr. B takes the same detailed approach. And because both the surgical and restorative phases of treatment are done in one office—the treatment fees are often lower than one might expect. The Dental Implant Center has an in-house lab and a dental hygienist, so they are able to meet a multitude of their patient's needs quickly and efficiently before and after surgery. Whatever your age, if you have one or more missing teeth, you owe it to yourself to see how a true “Specialist” in tooth replacement can help you.

WHO SHOULD CONSIDER A PROSTHODONTIST

Anyone who is seeking cosmetic or reconstructive dental work should consult a prosthodontist first. While many general dentists claim that they “specialize” in cosmetic or restorative dentistry, only a prosthodontist has specific, graduate-level training in these specific areas.

You should see a prosthodontist if:

- You are a patient who has received an extensive treatment plan.
- You have been told that you need six to eight front teeth veneered or crowned for cosmetic reasons.
- You have been told that you need to have your bite rebuilt.
- You have been told that you need dentures.
- You have trouble with your dentures.
- You are considering dental implants.
- You are missing one or more teeth.

Take the next step and work with a dental specialist who brings years of additional training, experience and expertise to your treatment.
