THOUGH THIS MEME IS LIGHT-HEARTED... oral health affects your life in ways that are often taken for granted—and not just in the looks department. Your mouth can reflect the overall health of your body, showing signs of infection or disease before you experience other symptoms. It's often overlooked in your health management, but one that is crucial to your wellbeing. It's easy to put off bi-annual dental appointments when you're not experiencing pain, but dentists can detect a whole lot more than cavities from examining your mouth. Among the problems and diseases dentists can discover with a thorough examination are vitamin deficiencies, acid reflux, osteoporosis and diabetes, along with a myriad of other health concerns that actually have nothing to do with teeth. If you've been putting off your regular exam because you're looking for a new dental office to call home, meet our Tops in Healthcare winner Dr. Steven Branberg and his team at the DFW Dental Implant Center. Their expertise goes beyond cosmetic to get you smiling from the inside out.

COMPLETE DENTAL CARE The DFW Dental Implant Center is unique because unlike most dental implant centers that only focus on implant dentistry, they realize that not every person needs a dental implant or a full set of replacement teeth. For this reason, they offer all aspects of general and cosmetic dentistry, plus removable prostheses. They know dental emergencies can happen any time, so to help accommodate these untimely events, they also offer same day limited exams, emergency tooth extractions and, in some cases, they can even place a dental implant with a fixed temporary tooth within 24 hours.

THE DFW DENTAL IMPLANT CENTER MODEL At the DFW Dental Implant Center, they believe that there is a better way to perform implant dentistry. Their dental implant center focuses on the patient by providing quality dentistry from a dedicated team of experts all in one location. This approach has allowed thousands of patients receive a better smile and a healthier mouth without the inconvenience of having to travel to different dental offices for their care. This makes the process more convenient, less expensive and quicker to complete.

WHAT ARE DENTAL IMPLANTS Dental implants are medical-grade titanium posts that function as an artificial root, or anchor, to support your replacement teeth. Compared to traditional complete and partial dentures, the bone fuses directly to the surface of the dental implant providing a secure foundation. Since the replacement teeth are attached directly to the implants, you do not have to worry about your new teeth coming loose when you eat, speak, smile or laugh (which can happen with traditional dentures). This is why implant dentistry is a popular and effective long-term solution for people suffering from missing teeth, failing teeth or chronic dental problems. Dental implants are used to replace a single tooth, multiple teeth or a full upper and/or lower set of teeth. During your free consultation, Dr. Branberg will explain which treatment options are right for you. He understands that not everyone fits into a single mold when it comes to their teeth, which is why he customizes treatment plans to fit each individual person.

SPECIALIZED TRAINING IN PROSTHODONTICS Prosthodontics is a specialty field within dentistry that focuses on repairing and replacing teeth in the most lifelike way possible. Dentists with this kind of knowledge are typically thought of as the "quarterback" when dental teams are handling more complicated cases. Dr. Branberg has trained extensively in prosthodontics because he strives to provide truly world-class care for all of his patients. No matter what your smile needs to look and feel its best, you can trust he's spent countless hours perfecting it!

One team. One location.

At the DFW Dental Implant Center, your surgeon, restorative dentist, anesthesiologist, dental assistants, dental hygienist, laboratory technician and support staff are all in one location. This approach is not only highly efficient, but it also allows your team to be very collaborative. The result? A better outcome at a lower cost to you.
